The Old Violin

'Twas battered and scarred, and the auctioneer
Thought it scarce worth his while
To waste his time on the old violin,
But he held it with a smile.
"What am I bidden, good people?" he cried,
"Who'll start the bidding for me?
A dollar, a dollar! Now two, only two;
Two dollars, and who'll make it three?
Three dollars once, three dollars twice
Going for three?" But no!
From the room far back a gray-haired man
Came forward and pickel up the bow.
Then, wiping the dust from the old violin
And tightening up the strings,
He played a melody pure and sweet
As sweet as the angel sings.

The music ceased and the auctioneer,
With a voice that was quiet and low,
Said, "What am I bid for the old violin,"
And he held it up with the bow.
"A thousand dollars, and who'll make it two,
Two thousand and who'll make it three?
Three thousand once, three thousand twice;
And going and gone," said he.
The people cheered, but some of them cried,
"We don't quite understand
What changed its worth?" Swift came the reply
"The touch of the master's hand."

And many a man with life out of tune
And battered and torn with sin
Is auctioned cheap to a thoughtless crowd
Much like the old violin.
A mess of potage, a glass of wine,
A game and he travels on,
He's going once, and going twice,
He's going and almost gone.
But the Master comes and the foolish crowd
Never can quite understand—
The worth of a soul, and the change that's wrought
By the touch of the Master's hand.
